

RYAN | JACKSON

Rudolph Chair

The Rudolph Chair evokes the bold architectural spirit of Paul Rudolph, translating his mastery of geometry and material contrast into furniture form. With a monolithic body framed in refined woods or lacquer and a metal base that grounds its presence, it negotiates tension between massive and light, raw and finished. Its enveloping proportions and clean lines speak to both sculptural intent and human comfort.

Finish options:

Body: All parchments, lacquers and woods Seat: COM | COL

Base: All metals

Standard size:

34.5"W x 34.75"D x 30.5"H

Shown as:

Macassar ebony body with dark bronze base